Event Overview

Gain practical insight into helping meet the new Enterprise Risk Management (ERM) requirements included as part of the updated OMB Circular No. A-123. And, as important, learn how to use ERM to drive real and sustainable organizational value after those requirements are satisfied.

The workshop will include presentations as well as facilitated table group work, where we move from academic discussions to “how to” explanations and examples. Participants can ask and answer questions in small, facilitated groups.
